Portland, Maine 29—According to telegrams received here last night the German submarine Bremen, the second ship of the German under sea merchant line, was captured yesterday off the Maine coast by British cruisers and has been towed to Halifax, Nova Scotia. While the news is from a Canadian source it is believed reliable.

Under the date lines the news comes from Montreal and it is stated that it has been confirmed by Canadian authorities.

The survivors from the two sunken vessels were picked up by Dutch fishing boats.

Berlin, July 29—According to a report given out this morning by the war office it states that all four of the British patrolers were sunk.

Why The Darkness?

From time to time the Editor has heard complaint about the difficulty of getting to the float on dark nights and especially from strangers making their first trip into Wrangell harbor. And the complaints were forcibly brought to our attention last Wednesday night when engaged in reading a magazine at our home on Stikine Avenue we heard a gas boat running slow as if finding her way to a dock, and after listening for a time we went out to investigate and found a strange boat trying to get to the platform back of our wood shed thinking it was a wharf. On being hailed the Captain of the boat stated that he thought it was a wharf and that he was trying to find the Grant float, and after being told that he was over the rocks he backed out and way given instructions how to get to the float. Now had it been low tide instead of high tide this boat would of run on the reef with no fault of theirs for there was not a light showing on any of the docks. Capt. Roy Cole who also came in on the J. H. Sisson the same night stated that he had to pick his way in as not a light showed to guide him, and stated further to the Editor that the city should take some steps to remedy this as he had never seen lights on any of the docks except on nights when steamers are due. It seems to us that it would certainly be to the interest of the city to put a light on the dock if private individuals will not.

When we read of the terrible heat wave in the East we are glad we live in Wrangell where these cool damp days a light overcoat is not uncomfortable.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not wash off.

Mystery About Movements Of Cruiser New Orleans Is Cleared Up

Juneau, July 29—The mystery which has surrounded the battle ship New Orleans which was five days over due from Sitka was cleared up last night when word was received that she was at Portland, Oregon. It seemed that the vessel received orders to proceed south so she left and because her wireless went wrong she was unable to communicate with anyone. A base ball game, sports of all kinds, several banquets and parties had been arranged here for the boys aboard the ship and the people are very disappointed. The New Orleans is manned by the Washington state naval militia.

Wet Town Is Popular

According to the Cumberland (Md) Daily News:

Licensed saloons have again opened in this city after five years of no-license conditions. Both retail and wholesale dealers did an extensive business all day. Special coaches had to be added to the Pennsylvania train running from Mercer, Leesburg and other points in Mercer county, which is now dry. Standing room was at a premium in the train and it is rumored that additional train service will be arranged to take care of the increased traffic originating in Mercer county.
